DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

2. Claims 1-5, 11-14, and 11-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Farrant et al. (US 6,314,043).

The anchoring assembly of Farrant et al. includes all the limitations of claims 1, 11, and 22 including: an upper connecting means (131), a lower connecting means (figure 1), an outer mandrel (figure 2C), an inner mandrel (104), a slip gripping assembly (22), an electric motor (304), a switch (308), a back-up manual release (128), a perforating gun (16), running the assembly into the well (inherent from figure 1), moving the mandrel (column 8, lines 41-58), actuating the gun (column 9, lines 8-15), reversing the mandrel (column 8, lines 41-58), retrieving the assembly (inherent; in order to use the well).

With respect to the dependant claims, Farrant et al. also teaches: a perforating gun (16)-claim 2; at least three gripping slips (figure 3)-claims 3 and 12; an electric motor and screw (column 8, lines 41-58)-claims 4, 5, 13, 14, 23, and 24; and a back-up manual release (128)-claim 25.

Art Unit: 3672

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 6-10, 15-21, and 26-31 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion
